our aluminum railing is built to last and powder-coated with AAMA 2604 standard coating to ensure that it won't fade or lose its gloss. unlike steel, wrought iron, or wood, aluminum doesn't require regular painting to prevent rusting or rotting. customers need only to occasionally clean the railing and balusters with water and detergent, and our aluminum railing will maintain its appearance and function for years. with so many balusters, colors, trim, and accessories to choose from, the final product really is one-of-a-kind. our aluminum estate fencing gives customer the ability to match their railing to their surroundings and taste, without having to choose between the estate fencing they want and the estate fencing they can afford.
